Hoosier Halleck Quietly Boomed For GOP Ticket

WASHINGTON (AP) — Colleagues of Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana have quietly and informally launched an effort to win the 1964 Republican presidential nomination for the House minority leader.

They are sounding out some top Republican leaders and report a favorable reaction.

Halleck himself would not comment, but persons close to him said he is doing nothing to nip the move. They represent him as being "available" for the nomination and ready to make a fight for it if victory should appear within reach.

The Halleck backers claim that of all the Republicans who have been mentioned as presidential possibilities, the tough-talking, hard-hitting 63-year-old Hoosier is among the most widely known nationally. His position as House GOP leader and as one of the stars of the weekly "Ev and Charlie Show" sponsored for broadcast by congressional Republicans have kept him in the public eye.

His supporters rule out of the picture such nationally known figures as Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Halleck has harbored high political ambitions for some time. In 1948 he came within an inch of winning second place on the GOP presidential ticket headed by Thomas Dewey of New York.

While Halleck's backers were playing down Goldwater's chances for the nomination, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said the Arizonan would probably carry Georgia if Goldwater were opposing President Kennedy in a presidential election today.

Russell said Goldwater's political stock is "selling far above any Republican par that's ever been known in Georgia."

Fisherman Hooks Counterfeit Roll

NEW YORK (AP) — Michael Rampino, 28, his son Frank, 4, and brother-in-law, Richard Malfitan, 12, went fishing off Brooklyn Saturday. Their luck was lousy, no matter how you look at it.

Rampino, who radn't caught a fish all day, hooked a wad of paper. Excitedly, he reeled it in —and unrolled 49 $100 bills.

After a quick trip home to talk it over with his wife, Rampino took the bills to a police station.

Detectives examined them briefly and gave him the word: 'Counterfeit."

Kennedy Children Visit Mommy In Air Base Hospital

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP) — President Kennedy today brought his two children to the hospital again, along with the family dog, Charley, to see Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

Caroline and little John Jr. were carrying chewing gum in their hands as they went inside for another cheer-up visit with their mother.

Mrs. Kennedy is recovering after the birth of a third child who lived less than two days.

The President brought them by helicopter.

John Jr., striding manfully, looked around with some wonderment at the reporters and cameramen, and the airmen clustered at attention.

Cheered By Visit

Sunday, the President brought them on separate visits, the first they had made to their mother since she was rushed to the hospital last Wednesday.

Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary, Pamela Turnure, said the First Lady had been cheered by their earlier visit, and did not seeem to be a bit tired after they all went home Sunday night.

She continues to be making an excellent recovery from the Caesarean birth.

Sunday night, John Jr. watched photographers' flashing lights as he visited his mother's hospital suite.

Looking out of their car with an air of one who had made a great discovery, the 2½-year-old youngster declared: "I betcha they're taking our picture."

President Kennedy, like everyone else who heard it, burst into laughter.

Hand-in-hand, the President had taken his two youngsters, John and Caroline, 5½, on separate visits Sunday to their mother.

Daughter Brings Posies

Caroline, with a bouquet of garden flowers she picked herself and little John asking "Where's mommy?" all the way to her room, saw their mother for the first time since she was taken to the hospital Wednesday for the premature birth of a third child, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy. The infant lived less than two days.

The First Lady, 34, is reported continuing to make a splendid recovery. She got out of bed for the first time Sunday, took a walk in her suite and began to eat solid food, including hamburger.

The youngsters, aside from the reunion, were treated to a helicopter ride from their Squaw Island summer home near Hyannis Port, Mass., to this air base, a 22-mile flight.

Kennedy started his children's airlift after attending Mass at St. Francis Xavier Church in Hyannis Port.

Consoled By Pastor

The pastor, Msgr. Leonard J. Daley, extended his sympathy and that of his congregation.

"In our sorrow for them, we know one consolation is that they have given back to God, their Maker, a saint in heaven, praying for them in these troublesome times."

Kennedy planned to take off from Otis Air Force Base in midafternoon for his return to Washington.

The President's tragic five-day visit to Massachusetts began Wednesday morning when Mrs. Kennedy was taken to the hospital.

The baby, a 4 pound, 10½-ounce boy, had trouble with his breathing from the beginning. A specialist was called from the Boston Children's Medical Center and the baby was taken to the Boston center a few hours after birth.

The baby died after only 39 hours and 12 minutes of life. The simple funeral services were held in Boston Saturday.

Sen. Kefauver Funeral Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate adjourns today as a mark of respect for Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Tennessee Democrat with the big handshake who died Saturday.

The quiet-spoken lawyer who battled organized crime and monopolies during his 24 years in Congress will be buried Tuesday in the family cemetery near the Kefauver farm home at Madisonville, Tenn.

A military plane will carry Kefauver's body to Tennessee Tuesday morning. Mrs. Kefauver, their children and a congressional delegation will be aboard another plane.

The senator's body will lie in state at the First Baptist Church in Madisonville, for four hours before the simple midafternoon services at the farm. The services will be conducted on the porch of the family home.

An estimated 500 persons paid their respects Sunday at a Washington funeral home to the tall Tennessean who was the 1956 Democratic vice presidential candidate on the ticket headed by Adlai E. Stevenson. Kefauver had sought the presidential nomination that year and in 1952.

The senator died of a ruptured aorta, the main artery from the heart. He had entered Bethesda Naval Hospital Thursday night after suffering what aides described as a mild heart attack.

Informed on Cape Cod of Kefauver's death, President Kennedy said the senator was "a public servant of energy, integrity an talent. His devotion to the public interest made him a powerful influence for good in our nation's affairs."

Kefauver's death leaves the Senate lineup at 66 Democrats, 33 Republicans. He had served five terms in the House before election to the Senate in 1948.

Gov. Frank Clement, a Democrat, will appoint a successor.

Kennedy Bills Up For Action On Capitol Hill

WASHINGTO N(AP) — Two of President Kennedy's major proposals face action this week on Capitol Hill. The House will vote on a $1.1-billion college construction bill the Senate on a measure to create a National Service Corps.

The voting will come after the Senate opens hearings on the limited nuclear test ban treaty and the House starts writing a civil rights bill.

The busy week continues the accelerated pace set last week when the Senate passed a big military pay increase bill and two $5.5-billion appropriations bills and the House voted to triple federal support of vocational education.

Congressional leaders are trying to move as much legislation as possible before the civil rights bill hits the House floor and the Senate starts debate on the treaty.

An attempt will be made in he Senate to revive a Mexican farm labor bill defeated earlier by the House.

The college construction bill on which the House votes Tuesday is a major part of the administration's education program. It failed to win passage last year because of disagreements between the House and Senate over their separate versions, but is expected to face easier going this year.

A tougher road lies ahead for the administration's proposal to launch a National Service Corps patterned on the Peace Corps. There has been little Republican support for the idea, especially in the House.

This week is expected to see the final touches added to the administration's tax revision and reduction bill by the House Ways and Means Committee, which has spent almost the entire session on it.

Tip Gives Clue In Train Holdup

LONDON (AP)—An informer's tip sent detectives combing London's sleazy East End today for five criminals reported missing from their homes since history's greatest train robbery.

No arrests were made, but Scotland Yard posted a watch at each of the five addresses.

About 15 masked men halted the Glasgow-London mail train Thursday and made off with bags of registered mail worth more than $7 million.

Most of the loot was old currency being returned to London for destruction.

Police were convinced that most of the gang must still be in Britain. The precision with which the gang worked aroused speculation that the master mind was a former military man.

Spurred by reward offers totaling 260,000 pounds ($720,000), hundreds of Britons called police stations, claiming to have information that might help the police.

The ill-fated train, on its 400-mile journey from Scotland, was halted by a false red stop light. The bandits uncoupled the locomotive and first two mail coaches, moved them down the line and rifled them.

Burglar Caught, Stuck In Window

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — When apartment house dwellers reported hearing a noise, police who responded had little difficulty in capturing a man they booked on suspicion of burglary.

They said they found Larry Lopez, 33, trapped, his head stuck under a window that had slammed down upon him.

They added a second charge when they jailed him Sunday — drunkenness.

Seven Die In Car-Train Collision Near Saginaw

SAGINAW (AP)—"You can't describe it—"I'll tell you that. I have children of my own. . . ."

Seven persons, including a small baby and three other children, were killed in a car-train collision near here Sunday.

Two others were injured critically.

The group of nine in the car, comprising the families of two young Michigan couples, apparently were driving home from a picnic.

Their car and Chesapeake & Ohio freight train collided at a rural crossing five miles northwest of here. The car was torn to pieces.

Sheriff's men of Saginaw County said engineer William Mills of Flint tried but could not describe it. "You can't. . ." they quoted him.

Killed were:

Ellis Gary, 22, of Saginaw, his wife, Judy, 21, and their two children, Dawn Marie, 5, and Ellis Walter, 3 weeks.

Mrs. Audry Glynn, of Auburn, and two of her children — Linda Lou, 7, and Douglas, 6.

Mrs. Glynn's husband, Lester, 29, and a son, Michael, 2, were injured critically and taken to St. Luke's Hospital here.

The collision took place about 5:55 p.m.—in daylight.

Possibly the driver of the four-door sedan tried to stop. There were 100 feet of skid marks, sheriff's men said. The crossing has a warning marker.

Engineer Mills said his 54-car train was going about 40 m.p.h. He said he did not see the car and that at the impact he thought the train had been rerailed.

One witness after the collision said the car "literally disintegrated."

The car's roof and back wheels were sheared off.

Stolen Car Back, Better Than Ever

WASHINGTON (AP) — William Filcheck isn't too unhappy about the disappearance of his car over the weekend.

Police recovered it from five youths who were charged with unauthoried use of an auto and returned the 1955 model car to Filcheck with these improvements:

A new set of tires, a new radio aerial and new hubcaps. It had been washed and polished, too.

Blind Man Prays, Survives In Flint $500,000 Blaze

FLINT (AP)—Authorities today tried to determine the cause of a $500,000 hotel fire which claimed one life and injured 15 persons Sunday but spared a blind man who sat and prayed as the flames raged around him.

Three of the 109 guests registered at the old six-story Adams Hotel in downtown Flint were unaccounted for today. Firemen expressed hope that they, like 34 others previously reported missing, would turn up safe in other cities.

Fred Whittby, 84, one of the many pensioners who stayed at the 60-year-old hotel, died some 12 hours after being carried down a ladder from his third floor room.

Firemen also rescued 84-year-old Alice Everett and Frank Torrey, 68, a blind accordionist who was found sitting on his bed, reciting the 23rd Psalm . . . "The Lord is my shepherd I shall not want. . ."

Waits Six Hours

Torrey, a former evangelist, couldn't recall what prayers he offered, but said he prayed and prayed as he waited for six hours for rescuers while plaster crumpled around him and water from firemen's hoses rose to his ankles.

Torrey received minor injuries, but was saddened by the loss of his accordion and his white cane.

Miss Everett was hospitalized, along with fireman Jack Johnson, 23, who rescued both the woman and Whittby, and Thomas Gage, 43. Miss Everett and Johnson suffered burns and Gage was overcome by smoke. Twelve others were released after emergency treatment.

About 120 firemen used 18 pieces of equipment to fight the flames, which leaped as high as 150 feet into the air during the pre-dawn hours.

At one time the firemen poured 10,000 hallons of water a minute on the flames.

Misses Church

Hotel Manager Jack Adams said he discovered the blaze when his room lights went out on the third floor. He looked into the hall and saw flames leaping out of other rooms. He sounded an alarm.

His throat sore from the smoke he inhaled, Torrey conceded that he was frightened. To a questioner, he said: "Of course I was scared. Wouldn't you be."

One of his concerns was that the fire, the second he has lived through in less than a year, caused "me to miss church on Sunday for the first time since I can remember."

Torrey and his wife, who died in 1961, called themselves the Torrey Evangelistic Singers. His wife, also blind, played a mandolin and a guitar while Torrey fingered an accordion.

Last Aug. 22, Torrey's Flint home was destroyed by fire. He was away at the time.

CAUSE UNKNOWN

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Authorities today tried to determine the cause of a hotel fire which claimed one life and injured 15 persons Sunday but spared a blind man who sat and prayed as the flames raged around him.

Three of the 109 guests registered at the six-story Adams Hotel in downtown Flint were unaccounted for early today.

Firemen expressed hope that they, like 34 others previously reported missing, would turn up safe in other cities.

Rusk Urges Fast OK Of Test Ban Treaty In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk urged the Senate today to ratify the limited nuclear test-ban treaty, saying it should slow the arms race without damage to the security of the United States.

Rusk testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee as lead-off witness in the Kennedy administration's drive for Senate approval of the U.S.-British-Soviet pact to outlaw all nuclear explosions except those underground.

When Rusk took the witness chair, he was put under oath on the motion of Republican committee members.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, said all witnesses on the treaty would be sworn.

Rusk sought to counter possible arguments against the pact that some senators might raise.

He emphasied that the signing of the treaty by East Germany will in no way imply United States recognition of the Communist East German regime.

He said East German authorities will subscribe to the treaty in Moscow, and added: "The Soviet Union may notify us of that act. We are under no obligation to accept that notification and we have no intention of doing so, but the East German regime would have committed itself to abide by the provisions of the treaty."

Rusk said: "The United States and the Soviet Union already have enough nuclear power to inflict enormous destruction on each other. Still, the search for bigger, more destructive weapons goes on.

"Yet greater armament has not demonstrably brought greater security. The treaty, if observed, should slow this spiral, without damage to our relative strength."

Pope Sees New Hope For Peace

CASTEL GONDOLFO, Italy (AP)—Pope Paul VI says he hopes for "ample and fruitful increases towards world peace" as a result of indications of easing in cold war tension.

The Pope addressed a crowd of 3,000 gathered for his blessing at his summer palace at Castel Gondolfo, Italy, Sunday.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Somali Prime Minister Abdirashid Ali Shermarke arrived in New Delhi, India, today, for a four-day state visit.

The premier of the east African republic is fresh from visits to Peking and Moscow.

BANGKOK (AP) — Thailand's Queen Sirikit, one of the world's best dressed women, turned 31 today.

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Former Deputy Premier Thakin Tin told newsmen at Rangoon, Burma, Sunday that he would work for the early release of deposed Premier U Nu, held by General Ne Win's government.

Nu was deposed in a coup in March, 1962, and held in protective custody together with his cabinet. Thankin Tin and two other former ministers of Nu's government were released only four days ago.

Traffic Mishaps Kill 32 In State

By The Associated Press

At least 32 persons were killed in traffic over the weekend in one of the busiest and bloodiest weekends for highway traffic in Michigan's history.

Five accidents alone took 16 lives, and the 54-hour Associated Press death toll, which began at 6 p. m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday, included the separate deaths near Manistee of two children who ran into the paths of cars Sunday.

The Automobile Club of Michigan called the period beginning at noon Sunday "probably Michigan's heaviest 12-hour traffic volume in history."

Long processions of cars, many pulling boats and trailers, choked major highways into all large cities in the state. Particularly jammed was I-75 south of Bay City.

Seven persons, all members of two Michigan families, were killed in a train-car crash near Saginaw Sunday at an intersection marked by a reflectorized crossboard.

Menominee County Marks Century In Big Parade

By JEAN WORTH

MENOMINEE — The County of Menominee celebrated its Centennial here Saturday with a miles long parade that memorialized the century, stressing its lumbering origins and celebrating its graduation from the ox cart to the horse and buggy and especially to the automobile.

The county looked backward much more than ahead for its parade themes, although there was a space capsule that will be opened a century hence, and a military rocket and a few other concessions to the uncertain future during the jamboree of the past.

The county seemed to contribute more substantially to the march than the city, and charmed 10,000 spectators along the long route from Finntown down to Electric Square with township offerings of rural scenes, church groups, bar furniture and other oddments. The Carney Evangelical Free Church choir accompanied an organ on one float and the group included an accompanist playing a muscial saw!

Many Horses Seen

A team of big oxen leaned into their collars awkwardly to remind the spectators of what a great advance came with the horse and the age of the livery stable. There were many horse drawn rigs in the parade and a glance at the unshod hooves of many of them was a reminder that they were museum pieces historically.

A child screamed gleefully at a young couple in a buggy, "Get a horse!" And the woman in the bugy said just as ecstatically "We got one!"

The equine offerings included a fine six-horse hitch of Shires, and there was a rather hastily assembled stagecoach with a woman riding shotgun, which is probably as significant a comment on 1963's regard for the last century as anything in the parade.

Menominee County has a sheriff so enterprising and durable that he has survived as a Republican in the Roosevelt years in America and the Comstock and Williams years in Michigan and still wears his badge, the senior "boy sheriff" of the county. Ed Reindl had a float in the parade, of course. He He has a Sheriff Reindl Fan Club composed of former prisoners, so he wouldn't miss that parade chance.

Jail Float

The sheriff's float was a jail with two cells, one labeled "Sheriff John Quimby-1863" and the other "Sheriff Edward J. Reindl-1963." (His service goes back to the '30s). Quimby's prisoner was anchored with ball and chain and other inhibititors and Reindl's, in a white coverall, appeared to be a young fella working on a PhD thesis in penology. It was almost enough to popularize the lockup.

Another float depicted the McDonald lynching in Menominee, one of the very few in the Upper Peninsula. Only one victim of the crime was depicted on a gallows. (Perhaps the float makers tired after creating one victim?) Menominee always refers to them as the "McDonald Brothers" but actually they were cousins. They stabbed Billy Kitson in a brothel brawl and he died. They were locked up in the jail in the basement of the court house and a mob took them out that night, killed them by dragging their bodies in the street on the end of long ropes and then strung them up in a pine tree in Frenchtown.

Local legend says that all the men who participated in the lynching died with their boots on, but so many were involved that it would have meant hardly any barefoot deaths in Menominee for a generation. This was after Quimby and even before Reindl.

Old Cars Are Hit

The Menominee Public School System contributed to the parade but not all helpfully. The float of the "Cetennial Belle" spelled it that way and the store displays of antiques had quite a few cards with bloopers in spelling. This may be in the tradition of old times, however, as George Washington was reported able to spell "schooner" three different ways in the same paragraph.

The old cars caused as much delight as any other part of the parade. Rep. Cliff Perras (R-Nadeau) is the James Melton of the Michigan Legislature, a collector of ancient vehicles, and he had three of them in the parade, all judiciously identified with his name and office so that the voters might be reminded of his political availability. Perras is probably the only state legislator who can stage a parade with his own vehicles and when he rides forth it is even more inpressive than Senator McManiman (D-Houghton) delivering a gift fire truck to the Village of Copper Harbor. Perras rode in the parade in a modest Model T, but his panzers included a LaFayette with a tonneau that could have accommodated most of the members of Lodge Perun.

The Lodge had a float and so did the Order of Vasa, whose greeting, "Har Ve Kom," delighted all the Scandinavians and made non-Scandinavians wonder if they translated it correctly.

The vehicles ranged from a gasoline powered wash machine converted into a scooter and steered with the wringer to a 1909 Maxwell and included a steam tractor and a poodle wagon. The bands played and the whistles and sirens screamed and there was lots of sunshine and gaiety and everyone agreed that if the next century ends as well, they'll all go down to the jail and join Sheriff Reindl's Fan Club. Even Ed Reindl will be elderly by that time, but he's sure to be around.

Neighborly

Neighboring communities sent many entries to the Menominee County Centennial parade at Menominee on Saturday.

The Manistique Girls Drill Corps of Job's Daughters was much applauded and so was the Vern Eagle family of Soo Hill in their Conestoga wagon. The Escanaba Columbian Squires and an Escanaba Council Knights of Columbls float were among stand-out entries.

Ed Marenger repeated the fun of the Escanaba Centennial parade with his Escanaba Machine Co. haying crew. Their power was a 1913 International Titan model 10-20 tractor.

Menominee County's Centennial parade in Menominee Saturday noon marked the progression of transportation from the ox cart to horse drawn vehicles and the automobile, which was represented by some vintage Maxwells and an Overland. Here a team of oxen pulls a covered wagon to provide the first view of working cattle in the experience of youngsters who watched the parade, and probably many adults. The last oxen were used on a Menominee County farm in the mid-1930s. (Daily Press Photo)

British Raid On U.P. Forgiven In Soo Ceremonials

Delta County helped Canada dedicate a plaque at Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario on Saturday commemorating a British raid on the American Sault in 1814 during the War of 1812.

The hands - across - the - border gesture was very friendly despite the slight edginess of the Canadians about the reason for the memorial. The occasion was the 14th annual Upper Peninsula History Conference.

A highlight of the two day program was Saturday's visit to Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., for a luncheon at the Windsor Hotel at which the guests of the Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Historical Society toasted the Queen and the President and heard Dr. C. R. M. Eaid. A tour of the Canadian Sault armories followed the unveiling of the War of 1812 raid plaque by the Ontario Department of Travel and Publicity.

Dr. Philip R. Mason, archivist of Wayne State University, Detroit, addressed the banquet meeting of the conference Friday evening at the Soo Country Club on Henry Rowe Schoolcraft and the Indian Agency he ran for the federal government on the Upper Lakes.

The Soo area was a chief theater of Schoolcraft's activities. He is one of the greatest historical figures of the Lake States in the period of first white settlement and was negotiator of the treaty by which the Indians ceded much of Michigan to the federal government shortly before Michigan became a state in 1837. Schoolcraft County is named for Schoolcraft, whose researches into Indian culture were used by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow in his epic Song of Hiawatha.

Delta, Gogebic, Mackinac, Ontonagon and Chippewa counties sent representatives of their county historical societies to the Soo meeting. Charles Follo, speaking for the Delta County Historical Society, said its director, David Coon, and the Society had furnished the background materials for Escanaba's recent Centennial celebration.

The Society has a membership which fluctuates between 150 and 200, Follo said and has gained so much momentum that its leadership changes but the program carries along. He praised support of the Society by the Delta County Board of Supervisors, which this year increased from $250 to $500 its annual appropriation to the Society to help finance its program of public service, and the City of Escanaba, which has painted the County Historical Museum building and landscaped the grounds.

The historians visited the Johnston House, Schoolcraft House and the Bishop Baraga House in a tour of Sault Ste. Marie historical sites.

Tourist Tabloid Lauded By Visitor

A Waukesha, Wis., family which had "the most enjoyable vacation we can recall" in the Upper Peninsula, today praised the Escanaba Daily Press tourist tabloid prepared for the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce as the means of finding much of their enjoyment.

William J. Wallace of 325 N. Grand Ave., Waukesha wrote to Walter Lewke, manager of the Escanaba Chamber: "We recently returned from two wonderful weeks in Upper Michigan, our first trip into that area and we feel we should write a note of appreciation for what we feel has been the most enjoyable vacation we can recall.

"Part of it, in fact a large share of it we are sure, is the result of having received the information we received from your office in the form of the tabloid newspaper, which certainly was informative.

"In it we found a motel we feel we should make special comment on. It is located near Cooks, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Gene Beauchamp. The rooms are beautifully furnished, rates very reasonable, and most of all there is the most wonderful beach on Lake Michigan directly across the road that is ideal for children and adults. Mr. Beauchamp keeps the beach immaculate. They are an unusual couple and children will never forget them.

"Gogebic County has an excellent recreation map that was found to be very informative and helped us find scenic places of interest we could never have found any other way. We spent some time in 13 counties of the Upper Peninsula, having written for a county map from the county clerk, or the Highway Department in advance was most helpful when we went 'exploring' the areas off the main highways.

"You can be very proud of your state parks; they are certainly well cared for and I am afraid I have to admit that they beat Wisconsin's.

"Thank you for your interest, we have had a very memorable experience, which I am sure many others will find similar."

Bowlerama Will Open Lanes For Play On Sept. 21

Construction of "The Bowlerama" at 2510 1st Ave. N., is progressing so that a Sept. 21 opening will be possible, the owners announced today.

Escanaba's newest bowling establishment has a three acre site on the northwest corner of 25th St. and 1st Ave. N. The Peninsula Construction & Supply Co. of Iron Mountain is erecting the prefabricated steel building which will house the lanes, with local contractors doing the sub-contracting.

The building will have a white brick front facing on 1st Ave. N. and provide 15,000 square feet of floor space. The bowling alley and concourse will occupy 12,000 square feet and the remaining 3,000 feet will be used in rest rooms, office, storage room, cocktail lounge and a multi-purpose room, which can be divided from the cocktail lounge by a folding door to provide privacy for meetings and other usage.

The bowling equipment will be all new American Machine & Foundry equipment. The pinspotters for the 16 lanes will be the new 82-70 machines brought out in May of this year. The new pinspotters were recently demonstrated in a league test in Chicago and a three game schedule was bowled in 1.5 hours. Normal time would be more than two hours.

The Bowlerama's equipment will also include pindicators which show the bowler what pins are standing; automatic foul line detectors, underground ball returns with lazy susan ball rack, AMF's new spare maker, and an automatic lane conditioner to assure uniform surface.

The establishment says it will provide a Peninsula first with its score projector, a device to project the score onto a screen over the score table to enable spectators to see bowlers' scores from the concourse.

The cocktail lounge will be separated from the bowling area by a large window.

The bar will be 65 feet long, with a service counter onto the concourse.

The multi-purpose room will provide 600 feet of space at the end of the cocktail lounge and will have a separate entrance to the concourse and be carpeted.

The parking area will provide about 13,000 square feet of lighted lot to accomodate 200 cars.

The Bowlerama is owned and will be operated by the Delta Recreation Corp., which is headed by three Escanaba men, James Bichler, 1100 S. 18th St.; Clayton Tanquay, 602 Stephenson Ave., and Bernard St. Onge, 1115 10th Ave. S.

Prisoners Stage Riot At Indiana State Penal Farm

PUTNAMVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Two prisoners were missing, two were hospitalized and five others were nursing minor wounds today after an Indiana state farm riot was quelled by shotgunfiring state troopers.

About 500 inmates of the unfenced penal institution fired the laundry and smashed through two doors to clean out a supply of narcotics in the farm hospital.

Troopers and guards began a systematic shakedown of inmates this morning and recovered part of the missing drugs. The search continued.

Arthur Campbell, state corrections commissioner, said after a sleepless night that the extent of the damage could not be determined immediately but there was no structural damage.

He emphasized that the troopers' shotguns were loaded with birdshot rather than the bigger buckshot pellets, "which would have killed some of the rioters."

Ford Predicts High Car Sales

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sales of 7 million new cars a year—a figure auto makers once viewed with awe — probably will continue throughout the 1960s, Henry Ford II said today.

In a copyrighted interview with U. S. News & World Report, the chairman of the board of Ford Motor Co. based his prediction on population growth, the rise of multiple car families, high employment and a high scrappage rate.

Counting sales of foreign cars, Ford said, "We feel that we'll probably outdo the record year of 1955 by a slim margin. We should do better than 7 million new cars this year."

He added that while a record may not be broken every year "I still think we're going to have at least another 7-million car year next year. ... the average ought to be 7 million throughout the first of the 60s."

Ratify That Ban

President Kennedy expects opposition to U.S. Senate approval of the recent agreement reached by the United States and Britain with Russia on nuclear testing, but eventual approval. Both actions are needed.

Debate will help explain the facts of Atomic Age life to the American people. Approval by the Senate of the treaty will not injure our relationships with Russia and may provide the opportunity of improving them.

Many sensible things in opposition to the treaty are being said, and some silly ones. It is completely true that we have the treaty at this time after sterile years of effort to negotiate such a ban because Russia now wills it. Her very haste in change of mind makes many Americans wary and suspicious of a trick.

* * *

The proper American outlook is that it is advantageous to Russia or she wouldn't have promoted it. But having accepted this premise it is not necessary to believe that because it suits Russia it is harmful to us.

It is not the part of diplomacy or good sense to be unwary in our relationships with Russia. We are on notice, repeated many times by the leaders of the Soviets, that they are out to defeat us. We accept this challenge but in an Atomic Age we strive diligently to avoid going to war over it. In this stance we expect Russia to have the same view; an atomic war would be as deadly for the Soviet Union as for America; there could be no victor and probably not many survivors; civilization as we know it would be devastated.

* * *

The suspicion that Russia may not honor the agreement—she has broken nearly all that she has made with us—should not deter us from ratification. We should not be deterred by the very real and serious dangers of our relationship with Russia from exploring all new opportunities for agreement. When there is no atomic war underway a great world victory of peace is being celebrated and we should devote our national energies to this above every other consideration, as the first order of survival.

The proposed ban is only partial but it should help reduce the fallout danger, open up avenues for increasing cooperation between East and West, reduce arms costs, and curb atomic programs of other nations.

* * *

The ban won't stop our own nuclear research and we can test underground, as this type of testing is not prohibited. Formerly we tried to limit Russia's testing by limiting our own. This effort has now been formalized by a treaty in which other nations can join. It is a start on control of nuclear force so needed by the world.

Russia's trouble with China, her own advances in nuclear science, and her reappraisal of her position for conquest may have prompted this lapse in her belligerency. Whatever the reason we should react. There's no occasion for confidence that it will achieve peace, which seems to be the extravagant hope of many of the persons writing to the President (his mail favors the test ban pact 12 to 1), but there's no occasion for rejection of the treaty, either.

The Doctor Says:

Permissiveness Helps Child

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

The chief job of parents is to act as guides and teachers of the art of living to their children. To help them to do this they are bombarded on all sides with advice, much of it conflicting and therefore confusing.

In spite of all this, most parents are doing a creditable job. That is largely because they can't go far wrong if they show true affection for their children and praise them for accomplishments without expecting a level of attainment beyond the child's capacity.

Ever since Freud described the evil consequences of childhood frustrations, parents have been urged to be less authoritarian and more permissive in their attitudes toward their children. Dr. Leo Kanner, the eminent child psychiatrist, points out that in the constructive sense, permissiveness is a controlling but kindly way of permitting a child to be himself and to exercise his own will without letting him encroach on the rights of others.

However, when parents substitute submissiveness for this kind of permissiveness everyone is the loser.

If, for example, the child is allowed to strike his parents or others or to indulge in temper tantrums, he will find as soon as he enters school or kindergarten that the submissiveness of his parents is not shared by the rest of the community.

At this point his frutrations will begin in earnest and he will come in time to blame his parents, and rightly so, for his failure to get along. But by then it may be too late for him to completely change his personality.

One important aspect of permissiveness is to allow the child to develop at his own rate without driving him toward perfection at too early an age. Expecting too much too soon can only lead to disappointment and discouragement.

There is also the less obvious necessity of allowing a child to be himself in spite of any physical handicap he may have. Whether it be a very prominent birth mark or an ugly scar acquired sometime after his birth, acceptance by the parents without undue emphasis will help the child to accept what can't be changed and will minimize emotional conflicts over it.

Wise parents have always known this instinctively. Those who have not known it but have learned it well have been amply rewarded in seeing the self-confident unfolding of the personality of their child.

Q—What diseases is a newborn baby immune to and how long does this immunity last?

A—Assuming that the mother was immune to measles, smallpox, mumps, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, chicken pox and poliomyelitis, there will be a varying amount of antibodies against these diseases in the blood of the newborn but they will have disappeared within three to six months. That is why immunizations against the diseases for which such immunization is available should be given before the end of the first year.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (N E A) — Twenty-three top Eisenhower administration officials and supporters will go to work soon on a project to develop new Republican papers on foreign and domestic policies.

These documents are intended to guide the GOP in the 1964 election and beyond, with such revisions as are necessary to keep them up-to-date.

The group will function as the Critical Issues Council. Its sponsor is the Republican Citizens Committee, which was organized at a tent meeting on Ike's farm in June, 1962.

General chairman of CIC will be Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the former President's brother and president of Johns Hopkins University. Organization of the council was completed at an unannounced meeting of 15 of its members in Washington Aug. 1.

The group will be organized into a half dozen or more task forces whose chairmen will be announced soon after Dr. Eisenhower's return from Europe. He is accompanying Ike on this trip to revisit the Normandy beachhead.

This is in preparation for a 20th anniversary D-Day landing telecast on June 6, 1964. That will be five weeks before the GOP national convenution is scheduled to open in San Francisco.

* * *

Each critical issues task force will prepare one or more policy papers in the general fields of national defense, foreign affairs, science, economics, education, human relations and agriculture.

One principal purpose will be to build up independent and conservative Democratic support for the Republicans.

This effort will have no direct connection with either the present Republican leaders in Congress or the GOP National Committee.

Don C. Frey, executive director of the sponsoring Republican Citizens Committee, says it will maintain close liaison with both, but the principal emphasis will be to make this strictly a private citizens' activity.

In this respect it will be completely unlike the 1960 Republican Committee on Program and Progress which operated under the chairmanship of Charles H. Percy of Chicago and which prepared a pocket book of 12 papers titled "Decisions for a Better America."

It had some impact on drafting the 1960 Republican platform. But the major decisions on that were really made in the famous pre-convention meetings between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Neither of these officials, nor any of the other 13 GOP presidental possibilities now crowding the political horizon, will have anything to say about the Critical Issues Council papers.

* * *

Anyone having any bright ideas to contribute to this Republican brains trust is asked to communicate with Dr. Milton E. Eisenhower, Critical Issues Council, 1625 K St., N. W., Washington, D. C., 20006.

His group includes five former cabinet members. They are Robert N. Anderson, Marion S. Folsom, Thomas S. Gates, Oveta Culp Hobby and James P. Mitchell.

For military experts he has Adm. Arleigh A. Burke and Gen. Lauris Norstad. His ex-members of Congress are Clare Boothe Luce and Dr. Walter Judd.

Eight former Eisenhower administration officials serving on CIC are Elliott V. Bell, Dr. Arthur F. Burns, Albert L. Cole, Dr. T. Keith Glennan, Mrs. Oswald B. Lord, Dr. Don Paarlberg, Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier and Adm. Lewis L. Strauss.

Republican Citizens directors serving with them will include Dr. Dean Malott, C. Wrede Petersmeyer, Samuel R. Pierce Jr., Charles S. Rhyne and Dr. Walter N. Thayer.

Promises Bright For Autumn TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The favorite indoor and poolside sport of this show business town now, as always in late summer, is predicting next season's hit television shows.

The community is full of self-proclaimed experts on the subject, and the most fascinating aspect of the game is that almost anybody can be right.

After two weeks of visiting television sets, talking with producers, directors, stars, executives and, of course, press agents, I have been assured that every new series encountered undoubtedly will be a hit.

For what preseason talk is worth, there's a lot about the incoming NBC Bill Dana comedy series. By coincidence it will occupy the Sunday night spot vacated by "Ensign O'Toole," which received the same kind of talk last year at this time but survived for only one season.

CBS' "My Favorite Martian" also is a Sunday evening entry and the subject for particularly enthusiastic predictions. This is unusual in that it will attempt to marry fantasy and satire in a comedy. It concerns the adventures of a visitor from another planet who arrives equipped with built-in antennae and assorted powers including ability to become invisible at will.

The theory is that the kiddies will enjoy the magic and the adults appreciate the satire and everybody will be happy.

ABC and many of the crystal-ball gazers are expecting interesting response to "Burke's Law," an action series done in a debonair and sophisticated manner. It stars a millionaire man-about-town who is also a police detective.

A number of shows have been beset by production troubles. ABC's "Travels of Jaimie McPheeters" lost its producer by death; CBS removed the producer and took most of the writers off "The Judy Garland Show" after five shows had been taped; NBC's "Richard Boone Show," an anthology series, has been set back by the illness of playwright Clifford Odets, story editor of the series.

But until premier dates in September and October, the promise of each of the 32 new shows is bright.

Quick Quiz

Q—What kind of plant is the little mermaid's cap?

A—The mermaid's cap found in pools of shallow water along the Florida coast is a green alga which looks like a small greenish-white mushroom. It consists of a single enormous cell instead of thousands of miscroscopic ones.

Q—Can a president and vice president be elected from the same state?

A—Yes, the Constitution merely provides that the presidential electors must vote for a president and vice president.

Q—Did any white men accompany Admiral Peary on his last lap to the North Pole?

A—In his final dash there were no white men. His Negro servant, Matthew Henson, and four Eskimos accompanied him.

Q—Why are fiddler crabs called fiddlers?

A—Because of the extreme difference in size of the claws of the male, one claw resembling the fiddle or violin and the other the bow.

Michigan Years Of Schooling Are Advancing Rapidly

BY J. F. THADEN
Michigan State University

A question concerning the precise level of educational attainment was included in the U.S. Census Bureau's decennial census for the first time in 1940.

In connection with the decennial census of population taken in April 1960, the Census Bureau collected data on highest grade (or year) of regular school ever attended."

One index of attainment which can be used to delineate trends and also to compare various groups or areas at a given point in time is the median number of school years completed. The median is the middle figure or the arithmetic average of middle figures in a group of numbers arranged in ascending or descending order. These medians for Michigan for the last three censuses indicate that the level of education attainment is rising rapidly in this state.

The median number of school years completed by Michigan residents 25 years old and over was 8.8 years in 1940, 9.9 in 1950 and 10.8 in 1960. In other words, of the 4.2 million persons in this age group in 1960, the average (median) had completed nearly nearly three years of schooling beyond the eight grade.

Among the fifty states, median school years completed ranged from a low 8.7 years in Kentucky and South Carolina to a high of 12.2 in Utah Michigan occupies a position near the middle among the remainder of the states arranged in order between these two extremes.

The mountain and Pacific states have the highest levels of educational attainment. New Mexico registered the lowest level of attainment in these two large areas with a medain figure of 11.2 school years completed. In our own East North Central Region, of which Michigan is a part, the highest figure is Ohio's 10.9. This is followed by Indiana and Michigan, 10.8, Ilinois, 10.5 and Wisconsin, 10.4.

While relatively fewer of Michigan's population have had any college education, than the U.S. ratio significantly more completed between eight and twelve years of school. The net result is that median years of school completed for Michigan is slightly ahead of the national figures.

The median woman has more years of formal education than the median man. Median school years completed by Michigan women in 1960 was 11.1. For men the figure was 10.4. Apparently much of the female advantage was aquired during the 1940's when the war effort demanded the services of many men while women continued their education. In 1940, the median female had completed 8.9 years of schooling, a level only slightly above the 8.7 years for males. By 1950, the figures were 10.2 and 9.5 respectively for women and men and the same gap, in terms of years prevailed in 1960.

Women have a smaller proportion of their number at either end of the educational spectrum than men. This means that a larger proportion of women are classified in the interval between these two extremes of much schooling and little schooling.

Statistics reveal that 30 per cent of Michigan women completed high scool and no more whereas only 22 per cent of adult males fell into this category. Adding these percentages to those for college attendance yields the total proportion who completed high school. Thus we can say that around 58 per cent of all males 25 years old and over living in Michigan in 1960 had completed high school while 43 per cent of females had attained at least this level.

It is evident from the distribution that women's higher level of median school years completed was due entirely to their greater perseverance in completing high school. On the other hand, once through high school the average male is more likely to have attended college than is the average female.

In 1950, median school years completed by white persons 25 years old or over was 10.0 and this rose to 11.0 in 1960. For no-whites, the figures were 8.5 in 1950 and 9.1 in 1960.

In view of great differences in the composition of population-such as age, sexratio, race nativity, occupation, rural-urban residence and marital status considerable variation can be expected in the schooling of adults among the 83 counties of the state. Median school years completed ranges from a low 8.5 in Keweenaw and 8.7 in Lake to a high of 12.2 years in Washtenaw (Ann Arbor) The latter is followed closely by Ingham (Lansing), Midland, and Oakland, each with medians of 12.1 years.

The proportion of persons 25 years old and over with less than 5 years of schooling is lowest in Eaton County and highest in Luce County. The fact that Newberry State Hospital is located in Luce County may be a principal explanation for its status. In this county, of 5,741 persons 25 years and over 31 per cent are institutional inmates. Next to Luce is Lake County with 13.7 per cent of its adults having less than five years of school, followed closely by Keweenaw County with 13.6 percent, and Baraga County with 12.8 per cent.

The percentage of people with less than five years of schooling is higher than the state average in each of the 15 counties of the Upper Peninsula. The relatively large proportion of foreign-born and aged person lorgely explains this condition. Selective out-migration was another factor. The 53,409 net out-migration of the 40's and the 33,566 of the 50's may have been the better educated.

The percentage of persons who have completed one or more years of college ranges from a low of 3.7 in Keweenaw County to a high of 32.4 in Washtenaw County. The later is the site of two large universities the University of Michigan and Eastern Michigan University and therefore it has many people with advanced educational training. In fact, more than one-fift (23.4 per cent) of its employed persons are engaged as professional, technical, or kindred workers as compared to state average of 11.5 percent.

Years of schooling and income appear to be inter-related in this state-the higher the school-grade achievement the higher the income, and vice versa. For example the median school-grade completed by adults is 8.0 to 10.9 years in the 25 low-income counties, those with median income per family of $3,000 to $4,500. On the other hand, the median school years completed is 11.0 to 12.2 years in over one-half of the high income counties, those with family median income of $6,000 and over. Similarly we find that in each of the 31 counties which show median school years completed of less than ten years, none have family median incomes of as much as $6,000; yet one-half of the counties with median school years completed of 11 years or more have have family median incomes of $6,000 or more.

The statistics seem to warrant three principle conclusions. 1. We have made substantial progress over the past decade in improving the educational level of our citizens. However this state is far below the levels achieved in many western states. 2. Some groups have not done as well as others in raising their levels. Opportunity and motivation are undoubtedly important causes for these disparities. 3. There is a positive relationship between educational achievement and income.

Fire can destroy the Bond...but not the savings

All that the owner of this charred U. S. Savings Bond has to do is mail the remains to the Treasury Department, with as much more information as he can give—serial number, and date and place of issue. He'll get a fresh Bond to replace it. No charge.

The Treasury has grown accustomed to providing this sort of service. In the past 20 years they've replaced over 1,300,000 Savings Bonds that have been lost, stolen, burned or mistakenly tossed out with the trash.

Every U. S. Savings Bond sold is registered in the name of its owner, and a microfilm record made. So the government always knows when, where, and in whose name a Bond was purchased—even if there isn't a burned crisp to send them.

This assurance against loss is another of the many reasons why Americans now hold over $46 billion in Series E and H Savings Bonds. The money they're saving is providing for their personal security. And it's also helping to build the strength of America at a time when the enemies of freedom are stronger than ever.

U. S. Savings Bonds are a good way to provide for your future. Buy them where you bank or work.

Quick facts about U.S. Savings Bonds

State Lawmakers Bogged By Bills

Has the mass of bills clogging the hoppers of America's 50 state legislatures bogged down these traditional centers of representative government to the point where they no longer can do their jobs?

A survey by The Associated Press shows the amount of work tackled by state lawmakers this year was staggering. They worked their way through more than 81,000 bills, an average of more than 1,600 per state.

Reporters compiling the figures made repeated references to struggles to reduce the mass of legislation, find time to give bills public hearings, and get them out for debate before jammed session-end windups.

There is evidence that the 7,783 state lawmakers, many of them farmers and small businessmen ith little government experience, often feel overwhelmed.

"It is impossible for an individual legislator to be informed on all the bills," a reporter said in assessing Missouri's legislative problems.

"Most are accepted on faith, on the recommendations of the committees which are supposed to consider and study them before letting them out for floor debate."

The 1,154 bills introduced in Missouri were below average for the nation and compared with a high of 8,977 for New York. The totals ranged down to Vermont's 477. The reports showed more than 30 state legislative bodies handled 1,000 or more proposals.

The figures compare with 17,230 measures introduced in the two-year 87th Congress, which ended Jan. 3. Of this total, 1,569 became law.

The problem is not new and has been studied by committees both in and out of government.

The Committee on Legislative Processes and Procedures of the National Legislative Conference, for example, observed in a 1961 report:

"In recent years the people have come to realize, in increasing degree, that the capacity of state governments to meet the demands placed upon them . . . requires the unshackling of the legislatures."

If the number of bills passed is an indicator, the lawmakers are getting something done. Nearly 25,000 measures were passed this year.

The range of problems is similar to many of those in Congress—civil rights, huge appropriation bills, government employe salaries, public works and taxes.

List Of Jobless Goes Up In July

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Employment Security Commission says Michigan's jobless total hit 149,000 in the month ending July 15.

The MESC said unemployment rose 5,000 in Detroit and dropped by 1,000 outside of Detroit. The 72,000 in the Detroit area represents 5.2 per cent of the work force while 5.1 per cent of the state's workers lack jobs.

New Electronic Camera Produces Instant Pictures

EAST LANSING (AP)—An inexpensive camera that will let the photographer see his picture almost as soon as he clicks the shutter is in the works.

No liquid chemicals, no built-in pods and no darkrooms are required to use the electronic camera invented by Dr. Barnett Rosenberg of Michigan State University.

An electrically charged plate stores the light, and if the picture isn't satisfactory, the image can be wiped out immediately by discharging the plate.

If the picture is good, it can be made into "the most permanent type of picture ever created," Dr. Rosenberg said.

Prints — expected to cost no more than two or three cents in black and white—can be made on ordinary types of paper.

The camera plate is sprayed with dry powder and the image is transferred to the paper—immediately after the picture is taken if desired.

The process is called "persistent internal polarization" —or P.I.P—and is based on a tested principle of "electro-photography."

The camera plate will produce an unlimited number of photographs. Once the electrically-conductive plate, charged by low voltage batteries, traps the light, pictures then are stored in the plate.

Pictures are described as full toned and sharp to the edges, in contrast with some processes which fade out at the sides.

Rosenberg and his brother Philip, of Oak Park, Mich., hope to produce a basic still camera at prices between $50 and $100. The camera would have the usual assortment of lenses and shutters.

Rosenberg predicts drastic refinements in photo-engraving and graphic arts techniques. In addition, he said, P.I.P can be used in X-ray and other medical devices. The process uses any ionizing rays, including ultra-violet.

Dirksen Doubts Congress Will Vote Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

NO TAX CUT?: Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois doubts that Congress will get around to cutting taxes this year.

"President Kennedy is putting heavy pressure on the Democrats for action but whether he will get it remains doubtful," said Dirksen, a member of the Senate Finance Committee.

TRADE: A joint congressional committee to deal with international trade problems has been recommended by assistant Democratic Senate leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota.

"Right now the examination of trade problems and policies is considered almost at random by several congressional committees," Humphrey said in a statement.

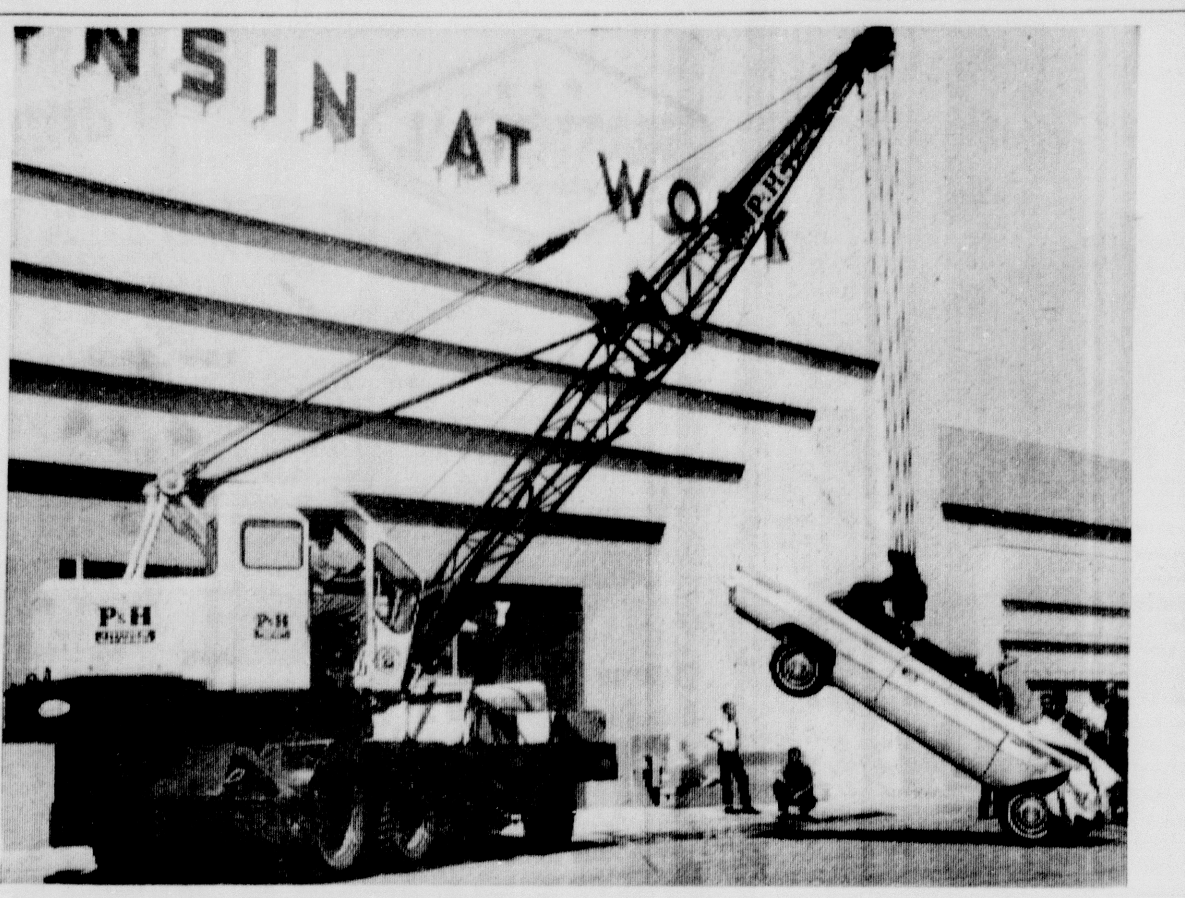
Missing Husband Found Burned To Death In Chair

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—When her husband failed to show up Sunday for his daily visit at the hospital where she had been a patient since April, Mrs. James E. Halligan called police.

At her home they found the charred body of her husband, who was 78, sitting upright in a chair in front of the television set.

Police said he apparently had dozed off and dropped his cigarette.



A damaged automobile is suspended from a Harnischfeger Corp. truck crane made in Escanaba by the same seat belts that enabled the car's occupants to survive a head-on collision near Racine, Wis. The dramatic exhibit of seat belt strength can be seen at the motor vehicle department display at the Wisconsin State Fair's "Wisconsin at Work" Building. The department estimates that use of seat belts would save 150 lives each year in Wisconsin.

Lansing Hikers Complete Trip To Fairbanks, Alaska

FAIRBANKS, Alaksa (AP) — Two young hikers from Lansing, Mich., arrived in Fairbanks Thursday, ending a 1,529-mile walking trip from Dawson Creek, B. C., on the Alaska highway.

Ted Struble, 21, and Keith Cossely, 17, made the trip in 48 days. Parker Seiler, 37, a Lansing school teacher, and John Hall, 26, a Michigan State student, accompanied them in a vehicle which carried food and equipment.

The hikers insisted they walked every inch of the way.

Struble said he used four rolls of adhesive tape on his feet.

"I walked on a solid cushion of water from the blisters for a week," he said.

The youths appeared tired, but in good health. Cossely said he would hitchhike to Lansing and hoped to arrive there in time for high school football practice. Struble, a junior at Michigan State, did not reveal his immediate plans.

Skindiver Killed On His Own Spear

JONES BEACH, N.Y. (AP)—A skindiver, knocked from his feet by a big wave, was impaled on his spear and killed Sunday.

The victim, Robert Petti, 32, of Westbury, N.Y., yanked the spear from his abdomen. Other fishermen at Jones Beach State Park on the Atlantic Ocean summoned help.

A Coast Guard helicopter took Petti to a hospital, but he died as he was carried into an operating room.

Scholle Attacks Districting Plan

DETROIT (AP)—State AFL-CIO president August Scholle has filed four reasons why his suit attacking state senate apportionment under the present constitution should not be killed.

Scholle is arguing that Senate apportionment under the state's 1908 Constitution, and both House and Senate formulas of the new Constitution, fail to provide equal protection under the law as provided in the 14th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution.

Scholle wants the legislature apportioned on a strict population basis.

He said in briefs filed with the U.S. Supreme Court that his suit should not be dismissed because the present Senate will serve at least through this year; because the new Constitution provides that incumbents will complete their terms and this means the Senators elected in 1962 will serve until the end of 1964; that there is a possibility of delay in carrying out redistricting under the new Constitution and existing districts may be continued for some time; and that the new document says that senatorial districts may not be altered unless there is a failure to comply with the language of the new Constitution.

Democrats Will Pick 4 Members On Apportionment

LANSING (AP) — Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency has announced his willingness to appoint four persons to the legislative apportionment commission created under the new state Constitution.

Ferency said in a letter to Gov. George Romney the Democrats "will make every efffort to appoint those who can serve both informally and in an official capacity subject to the official call next year."

Romney and Secretary of State James Hare Wednesday urged that the appointments be made so the commission may start its informal work toward drawing new legislative districts. Republicans already have selected four commissioners.

Ferency said, however, he needed answers to certain questions in order to make the appointments.

Ferency also asked the governor whether the special fall legislative session will be asked to pass enabling legislation for the commission, which does not become an official body until next January, when the Constitution takes effect.

Delta College Asks Grant For Educational TV

WASHINGTON (AP)—Delta College of Michigan is among the latest applicants for federal grants for educational television facilities, the Welfare Department reports.

Delta, located in Saginaw County, asked for $184,049 Saturday to activate use of channel 19 at Bay City. Total cost of the project was pegged at $309,714.

Miami University of Ohio and the University of Utah also applied for federal aid, bringing to 17 the total number of colleges and universities seeking grants.

The department said a total of $3,155,000 is sought—twice the amount of aid available. Applications are being evaluated to determine which applications will be approved, the department added.

OFTEN WISH YOU COULD PHONE IN PRIVACY?

An extension phone is the answer.

Ever want to take or make an important call without imposing strict quiet on the family? Or do you sometimes just wish you could enjoy a relaxed telephone conversation in private?

An extension phone makes sense for many reasons. Privacy is only one, important as it is. Step-saving's another. Time-saving, too. They all add up to convenience.

In your kitchen, den or bedroom, make it a Princess extension phone—in color. A separate beige ringer goes neatly on the baseboard. A Princess phone costs only pennies a day, after a one-time installation charge. Call your Michigan Bell business office, or ask the man on the telephone truck.

Seamen Opposed To Trusteeship

NEW YORK (AP)—Joseph Curran, President of the National Maritime Union, has joined with his union's chief rival, the International Seafarer's Union, in opposing "by all means" the proposed of government trusteeship over Canadian maritime unions on the Great Lakes, it was announced today.

The N.M.U. leader represents 50,000 unlicensed seamen on deep-sea, lake and river vessels. While opposing the governmental intervention, he made it clear that he was not defending the S.I.U. against charges that it was responsible for three years of violence on the Great Lakes.

Curran expressed his feelings in a letter to Claude Jodoin, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, four of whose maritime trades unions have agreed to the trusteeship recommendation made by Justice T. G. Norris, of the British Columbia Supreme Court.

The Norris report, made public in Ottawa Aug. 1, blamed strikes by Canadian and United States maritime unions marked by shootings, beatings and sabotage, on Hal C. Banks, head of the Canadian branch of the S.I.U, which has been ousted from the Canadian congress of labor for raiding other unions.

Justice Norris described Banks as a "dictator" who was adopting the tactics of James R. Hoffa, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, in a drive for greater power.

Curran urged that the problem he solved "within the house of labor on both sides of the border," with the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee acting on it in the United States. Both the N.M.U. and S.I.U. are members of the AFL-CIO.

Lutherans Vote For Friendship With Catholics

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — The fourth general assembly of the Lutheran World Federation has approved creation of a group to further friendly relations with other churches, especially the Roman Catholic Church.

The move was called one of the most important decisions made in the closing work session.

Under the recommendation approved by the assembly, a special Lutheran foundation on interconfessional research will be estab- France—to further what the resolution called the ecumenical dialogue with non-Lutheran churches, but especially with the Roman Catholic Church.

The Roman Catholic Church held its own ecumencial council last fall at the Vatican and plans to resume it this fall.

Ecumenical means worldwide, with subsidiary meanings of liberty and tolerance.

The new Lutheran commission, which would continue work started several years ago by a study commission with the same purpose, will be independent in its work but closely related to the Lutheran World Federation.

Moves to close the gap between Catholic and Lutheran churches has been a prominent feature of the 12-day assembly here, marked by the invited participation of two official Vatican envoys.

They have declared here that the Vatican recognizes the Lutheran church as a brother church, although not on the same level as their own.

European Fruit Competition Could Hurt Michigan

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigans fruit and vegetable industry could be hurt if the European common market cuts into the U.S. export market of such commodities, a U. S. Department of Agriculture economist reports.

But, the recent increase in tariffs by the common market on U. S. poultry will have a negligible effect on the state's poultry industry, a Michigan State University poultryman said.

The USDA economist, Dennis Oldenstadt, said the common market countries already out-produce the U. S. in apples, sweet cherries, pears and plums, although they lag in canning techniques.

Dr. Howard Zindel, chairman of MSU's poultry science department, said Michigan poltrymen night be slightly affected by an indirect effect of the upping of tariffs on U. S. poultry.

Ann Landers

Parents To Blame

Dear Ann Landers: I wonder how many mothers are in the same boat. I have knocked myself out for 15 years trying to please my children. But no matter what I do, it's never enough. There must be a sign on my back saying, "Kick me."

I get up at 6:30 every morning to prepare breakfast for my teenagers. All I get is complaints. "The milk is too warm. Did you leave it out all night. The cantaloup is soggy. The cereal is runny. The eggs are too hard."

When I leave a meeting early to pick them up at the club (for the 50th time this summer) I get a sour look and a "Where have you been anyway? We've been waiting five minutes."

How did the children of today get the upper hand? My teenagers make me feel like an employee. I find myself always striving to please—and never quite making the grade. Please tell me where I got off the track.—MOTHER, 1963 MODEL

Dear Mother: Children are not born with "the upper hand." It is given to them—given by parents who don't have the courage to establish the rules for the family. This is called discipline. And when rules of behavior are worked out equitably and seasoned with love, discipline produces respectful, well-adjusted children.

Teenage tyranny is not new, but it is vastly more prevalent than it used to be. This is what Henry James wrote 81 years ago in "Point of View":

"There is nothing in America but young people. The country is made for the rising generation; life is arranged for them; they are the destruction of society. People talk of them, defer to them, bow down to them. They are always present, and whenever they are present there is an end to everything else. And by children, I don't mean simple infants; I mean anything less than twenty."

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's boss is a man in his late 40's. He has an oily, egotistical manner which offends me.

This man has a wife and three children, but you'd never know it the way he carries on. His current romance is a shapely redhead who works in the cost-accounting department and who is at least 20 years younger than he is. She drives his car all over town and she's been wearing some mighty expensive clothes lately.

The problem is this: My husband has been staying downtown about three evenings a week—having dinner with this couple. I don't like it and have said so. My husband says the boss is three times seven and what he does is his own business. I say birds of a feather flock together and I don't want anyone to get funny ideas about my husband. Who is right?—MRS. WHY INVITE GOSSIP?

Dear Mrs. Why: When your husband pals around with this pair he gives tacit approval to the whole shoddy business. A married man should be at home having dinner with his family—not acting as a cover for philandering friends.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I was married for one year and recently had the marriage annulled legally and in my church as well. How do I go about announcing the news? Shall I see if I can have it published in the newspapers? Shall I send out engraved announcements in the mail?

Is it proper to keep the name Mrs. John Doe? Or shall I go back to Miss Mary Smith? I have a child.

Please advise me. None of my friends know the answers.—LOAD OFF MY SHOULDERS

Dear Load: You do not announce an annulment. Your family and friends will get the word soon enough, if they don't already know.

Since you have a child you should not be "Miss" anybody. You could make it Mrs. Mary Doe, however. Then if John remarries you won't be getting his wife's telephone calls and her department store bills.

* * *

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bye Bye Birdie This Week's Bill On Calumet Stage

Happily burlesyquing the rock 'n roll mania that has been sweeping the country's juveniles, "Bye Bye Birdie" will come to the stage of the Keweenaw Playhouse in Calumet for six days starting Tuesday.

The rollicking story centers on the tribulations of Leland Bell as Albert, who is about to lose a gold mine and is a victim of a tug-of-war between his mother and the girl he loves. His gold mine is Conrad Birdie, a guitar strumming singer whose side burns, hoarse warbling and hip swivelling have made him a teen age idol.

Powers Woman Crowned Queen

MENOMINEE—The top social event of Menominee County's week-long centennial observance was the grand ball held Friday evening at the Stephenson High School Gymnasium.

Mrs. Jeannette Poquette of Powers, Mich. was crowned queen of the centennial by Linda Bond, the Florida Sun Goddess. Mrs. Poquette received 31,000 votes. The runners-up were Mary Kramer and Jean Gehrke, both of Menominee.

Winner over 28 other contestants, Mrs. Poquette was selected on the basis of the number of votes registered for her in purchasing of official centennial buttons throughout the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Eagle of Soo Hill, three miles outside of Escanaba, brought Mr. Eagle's father Joseph, aged 79, and the couple's six children to camp in Menominee's tourist park along the bay, enjoy the various events, and add a note of authenticity to the parade Saturday.

Although the family's camping facilities include a large tent in which Grandpa and the children sleep, their 19-feet-long covered wagon is large enough to sleep the whole family and did so in comfort on their first night here. The wagon's "horsepower" spend their days munching grass in the campsite.

Negro Student Quits Alabama U.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—The withdrawal of Negro student James A. Hood from the University of Alabama could mean the end of his brief career as a student at the school following his stormy enrollment two months ago.

Hood's attorney announced the withdrawal and said the 20-year-old Gadsden, Ala., student was dropping out because of his physical and mental condition.

The university confirmed Hood's withdrawal Sunday and announced that a meeting of the board of trustees called to consider charges resulting from a speech Hood made in Gadsden July 16 had been canceled.

University officials had sent a letter to Hood notifying him of the charges against him and asking him to be present before the dean of men at 2 p.m. today.

The letter stipulated these charges:

—That Hood accused the university of a conspiracy in setting up a news conference for him in an attempt to violate a rule against student news conferences. The rule was imposed when he was admitted to the university with another Negro student, Vivian J. Malone, 20.

—That Hood accused university officials of attempting to keep a faculty member from giving him an "A".

—That Hood accused a state official of cursing him in a dormitory.

State Police are investigating the breaking and entering of the Cornell South's Store, which occurred sometime Sunday evening or early this morning.

Officers said entry was gained by removing a plate glass from the front door of the building.

All that has been determined taken thus far is cigarettes, cigars, candy, potato chips and other general merchandise items. The entry was discovered by the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Aiken when they prepared to open for business today.

Lakes Shipping Rules Scanned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Maritime Commission announced yesterday two investigations of Great Lakes shipping—one involving all carriers and one addressed to two Japanese lines.

One will go into the practices of all carriers on the lakes in quoting rates and establishing rules and regulations for the receiving, handling and storing of freight at Great Lakes ports.

This inquiry is being undertaken by the commission on its own motion because of allegations that the tariffs of carriers in the Great Lakes trade are ambiguous and do not identify terminal charges against the shipper as separate from ocean carriage charges.

The second inquiry, also undertaken on the commission's own motion, is directed at Iino Kaiun Kaisha, Ltd., and the Mitsui steamship Co., Ltd.

It is based on the allegation that the two lines refuse to bring import cargoes to Duluth, Minn., although they call at Duluth to pick up cargoes of agricultural products for export.

The commission said it is undertaking to determine whether this practice is discriminatory against Duluth or against U.S. shippers and detrimental to U.S. commerce.

Hearings are to be held at times and places to be announced later.

No 'Vacation' For Teachers

"It must be nice to be a teacher and have those long summer vacations all to yourself — three months of fishing, camping with the kids, maybe a trip — now back to school all rested up. What a life."

Maybe that's what you think, returning to your own daily grind this fall after the annual two-weeks-with-pay vacation.

It's not what teachers think. And it's not quite the way things are. And because of the way things are, more and more teachers are becoming ex-teachers . . . especially among the male teaching corps.

Sam M. Lambert, director of the Research Division of the National Education Association, said:

"The typical man teaching in today's schools is both angry and impatient. He thinks he is entitled to a better break in this era of two-car families and electric can openers, and he is. He is fed up with working nights, weekends, and holidays trying to make ends meet on a teacher's salary. He is tired of sacrificing his family for his profession. While many people are sympathetic the exodus of talented men from teaching goes on and on."

Forty-Six Hour Week

Men make up a third of the teaching force in public schools. Most of them are concentrated in the high schools or junior highs. Eight of every 10 men teachers is married and has two children.

More than 65 percent of the men teachers have to "moonlight" to supplement their incomes. Even more work summers. In a study two years ago, the average income for male teachers was $5,568. Working summers and at extra jobs during the school year, too, they earned an average of $1,155, but this figure also includes earnings from dividends, rents, and interest.

Since most men teachers work in secondary schools, let's stick with that. The average high school teacher puts in 46 hours a week on school work. Over half of this is spent in the classroom, 20 percent is spent in duties related to classes (like supervising study hall or working on records or reports, coaching athletics, sponsoring clubs, attending official meetings, and the like) and another 29 percent goes into related work outside of regular working hours (correcting papers, preparing lessons, contacting parents.)

The teachers would like to study during the summer to get advanced degrees so they can be better teachers and earn more money at their educational jobs. But many can't afford it. So they work.

Wives Work, Too

During the school year, they'd like to spend more time correcting papers, making individual assessments of the weak points in which some students may need special help. But many can't afford to do it. So they work.

And their wives work, too.

Of every 10 married teachers, 4 have wives who work. Three of those working wives have full-time jobs. Teachers' wives are found working at a job more frequently than the wives of any other professional group, says the report.

Quoting figures from the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, the report says:

"Of 25 occupational groups shown separately in the BLS study, only two other groups of professional and kindred workers are shown. Wives in the labor force were reported by 31.3 percent of the men in medical and other health work, and by 30.5 percent of men in other professional, technical, and kindred work. Of the entire labor force of married men in the BLS study, only 34.3 percent of the men had wives who were also in the labor force, as compared with 41.8 percent of the men teachers."

Bosanic Trains In Detroit For Tuneup Battle

Pete Bosanic

Pete Bosanic, Manistique's undefeated professional middleweight fighter, has returned to Detroit to complete serious training for his tuneup bout prior to the Michigan middleweight championship battle to be held in Escanaba Aug. 31.

Bosanic will face John Blaire of Akron in a six-rounder on the Kenny Lane-Paul Armstead world championship card in Saginaw on Aug. 19.

Pete Bosanic and his sparring partner world ranked middleweight Wilf Greaves, will be heard in a special interview over Radio Station WLST at 5:10 this afternoon. Bosanic has be- daily workouts in Detroit for his tuneup scrap with John Blaire of Akron at Saginaw Aug. 19.

Dick Ludwig, Bosanic's manager, announced today that Bosanic will be working out at the Big D gym in Detroit through Friday, Aug. 16, in preparation for the Saginaw fight.

"Pete is eager to get back in the gym after his trip to the Upper Peninsula to help set up arrangements for his Escanaba fight on Aug. 31," Ludwig stated. "He'll be working from three to five rounds daily with middleweight Wilf Greaves, in addition to his regular diet of roadwork and gym routine," Ludwig said.

Bosanic, former six-time Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves titlist, will face Jim Davis of Detroit in a 10-round fight for the state 160 pound championship on Aug. 31 at the new Escanaba Area Public High School gymnasium. A supporting card of three four-rounders and a six rounder will be staged. The bouts are under Ludwig's promotion.

Both Bosanic and Davis have unbeaten professional records. The Manistique Mauler has won six straight and Davis, a former Detroit Golden Gloves champion, has won 12 in a row, including seven by knockouts.

The Escanaba gym, which will be getting its first use for an athletic event, has been scaled to seat 3,600 fans. Tickets have been placed on advance sale and are available at Norm's Super Market and Gust Asp's in Escanaba, Maytag, Leonard's and Reber's in Manistique and from Bobby Hansen in Menominee.

Gladstone Wins Season Finale

GLADSTONE — Coach Don Howes' Gladstone American Legion baseball team closed the 1963 season in impressive fashion here Sunday, whipping Powers 7-1.

Jim Shandonay and Phil Caron divided mound duties for Gladstone and handcuffed Powers with three hits while whiffing 15 batsmen. Caron came on in relief in the fourth when Shandonay developed control trouble.

Highlighting Gladstone's eight-hit attack off Dave Pokladowski was a three run homer by Jay Knutsen in the second inning. Walt Veldman swung a steady stick for the winners, rapping three doubles.

After registering four runs in the second, Gladstone scored twice in the sixth and once in the eighth.

The visitors avoided a shutout in the fourth inning. Steve Pipkorn fanned but made it to first on a dropped ball by the Gladstone catcher. He stole second, moved to third on a sacrifice and scored on a passed ball.

Pipkorn, Jim O'Neil and Smith had the three Powers safeties.

The victory was Gladstone's second against six season setbacks in Waubung League competition.

The 1965 USGA Amateur golf championship will be held at the Southern Hills Country Club in Tulsa, Okla.

Battered Fullmer Uncertain About Career In Ring

NEW YORK (AP)—Gene Fullmer, mauled, bruised and badly beaten in his effort to regain the world middleweight boxing title, returned to the United States to mull over the possibility of retirement.

"I have no plans for retiring and no plans for going on," Fullmer said Sunday night en route to his home in West Jordan, Utah. "I'm going home to talk it over with my family."

The 32-year-old fighting Mormon was cut and battered and drenched with his own blood Saturday before suffering a seventh-round TKO at the hands of champion Dick Tiger in Ibadan, Nigeria.

His wife, Delores, said in West Jordan shortly after the fight that she hoped Gene, a former champion, would call it quits. Mrs. Fullmer, who has refused to watch her husband fight, repeated that he had promised to retire if he failed to beat the Nigerian champion.

The fight, the first title bout ever held in Nigeria, was scheduled for 15 rounds but Marv Jenson, Fullmer's manager, asked that it be stopped at the end of the seventh when the bleeding Fullmer was virtually defenseless against Tiger's two-handed attack.

There were no knockdowns, but Fullmer was cut over the bridge of the nose and blinded in the later rounds by a freely bleeding cut over the right eye. His body was marked by angry, red welts and the bruises still showed on his face Sunday.

The British referee, the only official, declined to say how he had scored the fight but The Associated Press had Tiger winning every round.

The Nigerian government underwrote the bout, putting up $280,000 in guarantees. Fullmer was guaranteed $50,000 and $10,000 in expenses and Tiger $100,000.

The fight was the third between Tiger and Fullmer. Tiger lifted the title from Gene with a 15-round decision in San Francisco last year and they fought to a 15-round draw in Las Vegas earlier this year.

Upset Posted By Undergrads

Catching the graduating Little Leaguers shorthanded, the 1964 Little League returnees upset the dope and handed the seniors to 4 to 1 defeat behind the three hit pitching of Bob Gauthier. Tonight the National Farm League All Stars will play the American League All Stars at 7:30 at Memorial Field.

In Saturday night action the youngsters parlayed five hits into four runs by out running and out-hustling their seniors although Pete Ross and Jack Johnson who shared the pitching duties for the seniors whiffed 15 batters in the six inning game.

The Juniors were off to a one run lead in the first when Gauthier doubled, stole third and scored when Tom Kangas' liner got through the infield. They scored again in the second without the benefit of a hit when John Gravelle and Bob Thompson walked, stole second and third and eventually scored on a wild pitch and a passed ball.

Meanwhile Gauthier faced only 10 men in the first three innings as his mates backed him up with spectaclar support. In the bottom of the fourth Danny Gouin beat out a hit to short and Roger Chylek got his second hit to score Gouin. At this point Gauthier shut the door by getting Ross, Greg and Jack Johnson out in order. The undergrads got an insurance run in the sixth when Bruce Irving was hit by a pitcher, Kangas moved him to third with his second hit of the evening, and Irving scored on Steve Kleiman's infield hit.

Mead, Trenary Win In District Tourney

Mead continued its sweep of Escanaba softball honors by capturing the district Class B tournament championship with a 13-1 victory over Flat Rock in five innings at Memorial Field Sunday night.

In the Class C tourney finale Trenary edged Powers-Spalding 5-4 Sunday afternoon.

In the Mead-Flat Rock game, Flat Rock took the lead in the first inning when the first four men got on base without a hit. Nels Thompson walked, Ron Smith bunted toward the mound, but Con Yagodzinski raced in and fired wide of first for an error. Leroy Rappette rapped a sharp one-hopper off the glove of Bill Lancour for another error, scoring Thompson. Pitcher Todd Butler walked the next batter, and then got Joe Goreau to pop out to the mound and fanned Jim Beauchamp to end the threat and end the Flat Rock scoring for the game.

Butler came into the game with a string of eight innings in which no batsmen had gotten a hit from him, but Nels Thompson stopped the string a ten consecutive no-hit innings, when he laced a single to right as lead-off man in the top of the third. Ron Smith attempted another bunt, and this time Yagodzinski made a shoestring catch of the blooper in front of the mound. Rappette flew to left, Bill Smith drew his second walk and Butler fanned Goreau to end the inning.

The only other hit off Butler came between strikeouts when Bill Smith lined a one-hopper over the fence in the top of the fifth.

Mead got nine runs when 12 men came to the plate in the bottom of the third, collecting six hits. With one down, Ron Abel slapped a double and Norm Butler followed with a walk. Bunny Martin hit a single, scoring Abel, and then Martin and Butler pulled a double steal. Everyone was safe on a fielder's choice off the bat of Todd Butler, and Roger Miron got on first on an error by the second sacker. Lancour singled and stole second, Yagodzinski singled and stole second, and John Brown, up for the second time, singled and then stole second third and home. Abel ended the scoring with an inside-the-park home run. He had a single double and homer in three times at bat in the game.

Mead batted around again in the fourth when Martin walked, Miron doubled, Lancour singled, Tippy LeGault singled, Brown walked and Abel got his third hit, scoring the 13th run for Mead.

Butler allowed three hits while fanning seven. Bill Smith went all the way on the hill for Flat Rock, giving up 11 hits.

Flat Rock got into the championship game by beating the Merchants Saturday 6-3. The game was a close one, as both teams had one run going into the top of the last inning. Flat Rock grabbed five runs, and then the Merchants made a bid to get into the championship game with Mead, but died after collecting two tallies. Bill Smith took the win, while Bob Corriveau took the loss for the Merchants.

Three Class B teams, Mead No. 1, Flat Rock and Merchants are entered in the Upper Peninsula Class B tournament to be held in Escanaba at the Memorial Field from Aug. 21-25.

Veteran Floyd Kallio completed his ironman pitching stint by going the distance in the championship game for Trenary. He tossed all of the games for the district Class C champion.

Bob Triest handled the mound chores for the Powers team.

Pinch Hitters Give Yanks New Gimmick To Win Games

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's not bad enough that the New York Yankees are making a rout of the American League pennant race in their usual fashion, but now they've come up with a new gimmick: They're sending up their pinch hitters two or three times a game.

So you get him out the first time he comes up and the second or third time he kicks your head in. Unfair? Well, not quite.

Take Elston Howard and Hector Lopez. Howard went in to bat for Yogi Berra in the eighth inning of Sunday's game with the Los Angeles Angels and flied out in routine fashion. In the same inning Lopez batted for Al Downing and also flied out. No damage done.

But both of them stayed in the game.

So the Angels go into the ninth with a 4-1 lead and promptly retire the first two Yankees. But the next two draw walks and Howard comes up again. So Art Fowler comes on to face him. His first pitch lands in the left-field seats and it's a tie game.

So Lopez comes up again in the 10th with a runner on second and singles up the middle, driving in the tie-breaking run. He scored a second run a few minutes later on an Angel error.

So the Yankees with 6-4, extending their winning string to six, the Angels' losing string to seven and boosted the New York first-place margin over Chicago to nine full games.

The White Sox split a pair with Detroit, the Tigers winning the first 7-2 and the White Sox the second, 3-2 on Dave Nicholson's 18th homer of the season with one out in the 11th.

Minnesota closed to within a half game of the White Sox on the strength of their sixth straight victory, a 5-2 edge over Boston, while Cleveland edged Kansas City 2-1 and Baltimore beat Washington 6-2.

In the National League, San Francisco beat Philadelphia 5-1 and closed to within 3½ games of leading Los Angeles, 9-4 losers at Cincinnati, Pittsburgh nipped Houston 2-1, Milwaukee bombed St. Louis 9-1 and the Chicago Cubs and New York Mets split, the Cubs winning the opener 8-1 and the Mets the nightcap 11-4.

The Yankee victory at Los Angeles was their 19th in 25 games and their eighth in 10 extra-inning affairs this season. Howard's dramatic shot, his 23rd homer of the season, was the turning point.

In the 10th, winning pitcher Bill Stafford led off with a scratch single and went to second on Phil Linz' sacrifice. Lopez followed with his run-scoring single and one out later scored on shortstop Jim Fregosi's error.

Don Mincher and Zoilo Versalles hit homers for the streaking Twins, and Camilo Pascual stopped Boston on five hits for his 14th victory. The Red Sox' Dick Stuart increased his league-leading home run total to 28 with a two-run shot in the sixth.

Rigney's Watch Takes A Beating

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two habits distinguish Bill Rigney of the Los Angeles Angels from the other 19 managers in the major leagues.

First, before each game, Rigney has a carton of milk.

Second, for reasons known only to himself, he always has worn his wrist watch during games.

The Angel manager no doubt will have another carton of milk Tuesday night before the Angels open a three-game series with the Washington Senators. But, for the first time, his left wrist will likely be stark naked.

His watch, like his ball club, has come apart. It was converted into a two-piece time piece Sunday when Rigney hurled it against something hard — possibly the concrete wall of his dressing room —after the Angels were once again snatched from the jaws of victory.

Saturday night the Angels led the New York Yankees 1-0 after eight innings and lost 2-1 when Bobby Richardson hit a two-run single in the ninth.

Sunday the Angels led 4-1 after eight innings and lost again. The Yankees caught up on Elston Howard's three-run homer with two out in the ninth, went ahead on a 10th-inning single by Hector Lope, and won 6-4.

The Angel clubhouse was closed to newsmen for 10 minutes after the game.

"The boys just needed a little time to cool off," said Rigney. "And so did the manager."

State Bank Wins Over Jugs, 17-4

The State Bank team stretched its lead in the Escanaba Girls Softball League Sunday with a 17-4 triumph over the Jugs.

The Bankers had three homeruns from Parma Smith, Dolly Malnor and Carol Courneene. Carol was the winning pitcher, Connie VerHamme the loster.

Greenhorn Cops Michigan Open

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — A Texan who said he is a greenhorn in tournament play captured the 25th annual Northern Michigan Open Golf Championship Sunday.

Tom Beall, 37, of Richardson, Tex., carded 66-70—136 for a three-stroke victory in the 36-hole weekend event at the Cheboygan Golf and Country Club.

Beall said he has been a weekend golfer and hasn't competed in any tournament until now. He entered as an amateur.

His 136 was four-under-par. Defending Northern Michigan champion Mickey Mc Millen, an amateur from Midland, Mich., finished in a second place tie with Ty Damon, a Kingsville, Ont., pro. Each posted a 139.

As low-scoring pro in the 100-man field, Damon with $155.

Dartmouth baseball coach Tony Lupien captained the baseball and basketball teams at Harvard.

Injury To Plum Cuts Celebration

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions, impressive victors in their exhibition season opener, held off medical reports on injured quarterback Milt Plum.

Coach George Wilson's reorganized team, lacking suspended star tackle Alex Karras, pasted the Cleveland Browns 24-10 Saturday but lost Plum, No. 1 quarter- because of a knee injury.

Any knee injury can be bad for an athlete and the Lions were keeping their fingers crossed even though Coach Wilson said it might not be serious. It was Plum's left knee.

For the time being, at least, Plum is not being counted on for the game with the New York Giants in Cleveland next Saturday, second contest of the exhibition schedule.

Plum's injury came early in the game against the Browns under their new coach, Blanton Collier, and the Lions used their one-two quarterback punch to spoil things for Collier. Earl Morrall stepped in and ran the geam the last three periods.

Morrall threw touchdown passes to Gail Cogdill for 13 yards and Pat Studstill for 21 to go with Plum's 25-yarder to Dick Compton. The other three Lion points came on a 30-yard field goal by the old and reliable Jim Martin after he had missed on two others of 41 and 43 yards.

The Browns helped the Lions by losing the ball four times on fumbles. Detroit's victory avenged its exhibition opener defeat by Cleveland last year 17-14.

Country Club Junior Tourney Set Aug. 20-22

Mays Hitting, Giants Win; Los Angeles Margin Melts

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie Mays is hitting and the Giants are winning. The National League story is as simple as that. With Willie still working on a 13-game hitting string, San Francisco has won 15 of its last 19. From 10 games back on July 20, the Giants now trail the Los Angeles Dodgers by only 3½ games with seven weeks to go.

The fellow who was quoting odds on a Dodger-Yankee World Series when the fight mob was in Las Vegas in late July must have revised his line. The Dodgers may win it but they are no "out" bet.

The front-line Dodger pitching faltered Sunday when Cincinnati knocked out Sandy Koufax in a six-run sixth inning en route to a 9-4 victory on 16 hits.

The Giants made it three in a row over the Phillies, 5-1, on a five-hitter by Jack Sanford with ninth-inning assist from Billy Hoeft and Don Larsen.

Jerry Lynch provided the heroics at Pittsburgh with a two-run homer that gave the Pirates a 2-1 edge over Houston. Hal Brown had a 1-0 lead with two out in the ninth. Then Roberto Clemente singled and Lynch hit his 10th home run.

Tony Cloninger turned in the top pitching job by striking out 11 St. Louis Cardinals while pitching a four-hitter for the Milwaukee Braves who beat Curt Simmons 9-1. Eddie Mathews hit a three-run homer for the Braves.

Dick Ellsworth won his 16th for the Chicago Cubs in the 81 opener but the New York Mets bounced back with a vengeance and clobbered the Cubs 11-4 for a split of their doubleheader.

In the American League the New York Yankees increased their lead to nine games by beating Los Angeles 6-4 in 10 innings while the second-place Chicago lost the first 7-2 to Detroit and won the second 3-2 in 11 innings. Minnesota won its sixth straight, 5-2, by handing Boston its ninth setback in a row. Cleveland edged Kansas City 2-1 and Baltimore beat Washington 6-2.

Chuck Hiller drove in three runs for the Giants, two of them with a seventh-inning homer off John Boozer, the relief man for loser Cal McLish. Mays' key double in the fifth opened up a 3-0 Giant lead.

Frank Robinson launched the big sixth-inning rally for Cincinnati with his 16th homer. Koufax, rolling along with a 4-1 lead at the start of the sixth, was the victim. Instead of his 19h victory, Sandy had to settle for his fifth defeat. Jim O'Toole won his 15th with help from Al Worthington. Frank Howard and Tommy Davis homered for the Dodgers and Don Pavletich and Robinson for the Reds.

Wightman Cup Hard To Win

CLEVELAND (AP)—The United States owns the Wightman Cup for the 29th time today, but its 6-1 triumph over Great Britain's finest women tennis players was not as decisive as the score indicates.

Led by Darlene Hard, who was seeking revenge, and bouncy Billie Jean Moffitt, the American girls turned a 2-1 advantage into a rout by sweeping all four matches Sunday.

Nancy Richey, a tough competitor from Dallas, started the U.S. to its runaway by outlasting 4-foot-11 Deidre Catt in a key match, 14-12, 6-3. Six times in the opening set — second longest in Wightman Cup history — Miss Catt needed a game point for a set victory, but Nancy would not quit.

Then Miss Hard, who was upset Saturday by British southpaw star Ann Haydon Jones for the visitors only victory, turned on a brilliant display of tennis to crush powerful Christine Truman, 6-3, 6-0. That clinched the silver cup for the U.S.

In one of the finest played matches, Miss Moffitt turned back Mrs. Jones, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

Miss Rickey, a Southern Methodist University home economics major, teamed with Donna Floyd Fales of New York in the final doubles match. They completed the U.S. sweep with a 6-4, 6-8, 6-2 victory over Miss Catt and Elizabeth Starkie.

Annual Musial Rumor Pops Up

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The now nearly annual report that Stan Musial, the great hitting star of the St. Louis Cardinals, will quit at the end of this season has popped up again.

Milwaukee Sentinel baseball writer Lou Chapman said Sunday a close friend of the 42-year-old Musial quoted him as saying, "I'll be in the front office next year."

Musial, who has more than 3,600 hits — a record unequaled in the major leagues — was asked about the report and said: "It's too early to talk about next year."

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Jerry Lynch, Pirates, hit two-run homer with two out in last of ninth to give Pirates a 2-1 victory over Houston.

PITCHING — Tony Cloninger, Braves, struck out 11 Cardinals while pitching a four-hitter for eighth victory.

Tank Stars Set To Invade Japan

CHICAGO (AP)—A U.S. national swimming and diving contingent, having captured nearly all the titles in the national AAU championships which ended Sunday, heads for a tour of Japan this week.

The squad of 16 swimmers and diver Larry Andreasen will arrive in Japan, scene of the 1964 Olympics, Tuesday to compete against a Japanese team for two weeks.

With the exception of Tom Stock and Ted Stickles, both of the powerful Indianapolis Athletic Club, every swimmer winning an AAU title in Oak Park over the weekend is represented in the touring team coached by Ralph Casey of Southern Illinois University and managed by Ken Treadway of Bartlesville, Okla.

Stock, winner of the 200-meter backstroke, and Stickles, the 400-meter individual medley champion, asked to be left off the team in order to devote the time to their studies at Indiana University.

Andreasen, a 17-year-old diver from Anaheim, Calif., and winner of the three-meter springboard competition, was chosen over Lt. Tom Gompf, an Air Force jet fighter pilot who captured the 10-meter platform event and finished a narrow 10 points ahead of Andreasen.

The team includes such record breakers as Don Schollander of Santa Clara, Calif., whose 4:17.7 in the 400-meter freestyle established an American citizen's record; Carl Robie of the Vesper Boat Club of Philadelphia who bettered his own American and meet record in the 200-meter butterfly with 2:08.8; and Steve Clark of the Santa Clara Swim Club, who surpassed his own American and meet record in the 100-meter freestyle with 54.2.

Carl Robie, University of Michigan freshman swimming for the Vesper Boat Club of Philadelphia, won the 200-meter butterfly in record time of 2:08.9. This compared to his own meet and American record time of 2:10.8 set in 1962.

Ed Bartsch of the University of Michigan was named to the team that will compete in Japan.

Pinch-Hit Star Isn't Too Happy

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Slamming pinch-hit home runs might be Jerry Lynch's forte, but the Pittsburgh Pirate slugger would be happier if he could smash more homers as a starting outfielder.

Like Sunday, for instance, when his two-run blast with two out in the last of the ninth powered the Pirates to a dramatic 2-1 come-from-behind victory over Houston at Forbes Field.

Pittsburgh was headed towards a 1-0 defeat when Lunch golfed Hal (Skinny) Brown's low knuckle ball into the upper deck in right field with Bob Clemente on base.

It was the 10th homer of the year for the man who earlier this season tied the major league record of 14 career pinch-hit home runs in a game against Chicago.

"That was a good one to get for it won the game," Lynch smiled as he sat in the Pirate clubhouse after the game. "I really enjoy those, particularly since I was a starter.

"Sure, I like to hit pinch-hit homers. Anybody likes to set records. But I'd much rather play regularly."

Though feared because of his vaunted power, the 33-year-old Lynch has seldom batted more than 300 times a season in his 9½ year major league career. And he's never been more than a part-time regular, usually being platooned against right-handed pitchers.

Norm Siebern of Kansas City has unofficial competition as he goes after a pop foul by the Yankees' Clete Boyer, A fan in the stands at New York's Yankee Stadium beat the Athletics' first baseman to the ball.

Frank Lary Again Victim; Detroit Splits Twin Bill

CHICAGO (AP) — The Detroit Tigers' first series of their newest road trip left them with at least some good recollections today even if they had to come out again as losers.

Pitcher Frank Lary — though once more defeated — remains a top major league man in his comeback and third baseman Bubba Phillips is taking bows for lusty hitting.

That much came out of a split of a double-header with the Chicago White Sox Sunday in which Lary, an ace again, lost the second game in 11 innings 3-2, and Phillips' bat helped to win the opener 7-2.

Chicago's second game victory, won in the 11th on the third of three homers spoiling Lary's seven-hitter, gave the White Sox the series three games to two.

Detroit crept into a nominal tie for eighth place with the Los Angeles Angels, who lost to New York 6-4 Sunday. The Tigers trail the Angels by three percentage points although each club is 23 games behind the league leading Yankees.

Detroit and Kansas City will have a little showdown starting Tuesday. The Tigers, idle today, move to Kansas City for three games.

Lary, now 2-6, lost a brilliant duel with Gary Peters in the second game Sunday after Phillips hit three singles and scored the tie-breaking run in Detroit's opening game victory.

Phillips' performance repeated his stunt of Friday night when he drove home the winning run in the 10th inning of the second game of a double-header.

The Tigers, with Al Kaline hitting a big double in a three-run fifth inning rally, mauled 14-game winner Juan Pizarro and his relief for 13 hits in winning the first game for Don Mossi. Mossi had a three-hitter through the sixth but had to be rescued by Terry Fox when he loaded the bases in the seventh.

Chicago's only runs came from a two-run homer by Jim Landis in the third.

Dave Nicholson's 18th homer of the season was Lary's downfall. He hit it with one out in the Sox 11th. Chicago's other homers were by Pete Ward in the sixth and pitcher Peters in the seventh, the latter's tieing the score at 2-2.

The Tigers got their two runs in the third on a walk, Lary's single, a fielder's choice, an error by Ward on Phillips' grounder, and Kaline's single.

Detroit sewed up the first game with the three-run blast in the fifth, opened by Phillips' second single and including Kaline's double and singles by Gus Triandos and George Smith. Kaline got three hits.

Mickey Wright Eyes Record

WATERLOO, Iowa (AP) — Mickey Wright, well rested and "playing real good," is out to win more tournaments this year than any other woman pro golfer has done in a single season.

She stands a good chance to do just that as she heads for Albuquerque, N.M., this week, fresh from her triumph in the Waterloo Women's Open.

Miss Wright, leading money winner among the women pros, shot a 69 over the par 72 Sunnyside course Sunday for a 54 hole total of 208 and her eighth title of the 1963 campaign.

She added $1,200 to her earnings, swelling her total for the year to $16,412.

The Dallas, Tex., sharpshooter shares with Betsy Rawls of Spartansburg, S.C., the record of 10 titles on the pro tour in one season.

Her eight-under-par 208 was four strokes ahead of Sandra Haynie, who fired a 68 Sunday for the tournament's best round.

Defending champion Marilynn Smith went one over par Sunday to wind up a stroke behind Miss Haynie, but the $750 she earned pulled her into second place in prize money for the year with $13,403, ahead of Kathy Whitworth. Kathy's fourth place finish at 214 netted her $600 and built her earnings to $13,380.
